

Principles of Social and Media Communication

Course code: KORZSMK

Throughout our lives, we remain in constant contact with other people, mutually influencing one another. Through spoken and written expression, as well as through various signals of "body language," we share valuable information about ourselves. The aim is for this communication to be of high quality and effective. This workshop is focused precisely on that goal. The course will be led by Daniel Herman, a prominent figure on the Czech public scene who over the years has established himself as a clergyman, a civil servant, and a senior politician. For many years he served as the spokesperson for the Czech Bishops' Conference. He later gained broader recognition as the director of the Institute for the Study of Totalitarian Regimes and as Minister of Culture. Currently, he is involved in international diplomacy and serves as the honorary consul of Liechtenstein.
